

Tenure Track Position in Financial Mathematics

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics at McMaster University invites applications for a tenure track position in Financial Mathematics. We are seeking applications from candidates at the Assistant Professor level, however exceptional candidates at the associate and full professor ranks will also be considered. The anticipated starting date is July 1, 2008. Candidates should have a PhD and a proven research record in some area related to Financial Mathematics.

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics is a research intensive department with active research groups in many areas in addition to financial mathematics. The successful candidate will be expected to become involved in the research activities of Phimac, the Financial Mathematics Lab at McMaster, and to teach in the M-Phimac program, the coursework Masters in Financial Mathematics at McMaster. He or she will also have opportunities to interact with members of the DeGroote School of Business and other faculties at McMaster, as well as access to SHARCNET's high-performance computing facilities.

Candidates are required to apply for this position by using the MathJobs website. See our advertisement at www.mathjobs.org. Review of applications will begin on February 1, 2008 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should arrange for at least three letters of recommendation. At least one of these letters should report on the candidate's teaching abilities. Preferably these letters will be submitted through the MathJobs website (see above); they may also be sent directly to:
