

Title: Lecturer – Mathematics

Job Field: Teaching Stream

Faculty / Division: University of Toronto Mississauga

Department: Mathematical and Computational Sciences, UTM

Campus: Mississauga

Job Posting: September 21, 2012

Closing Date: November 10, 2012

Description:

The Department of Mathematical and Computational Sciences seeks an enthusiastic and innovative teacher for a teaching stream position at the rank of Lecturer in the field of Mathematics beginning July 1, 2013. Appointments at the rank of Lecturer may be renewed annually to a maximum to five years. In the fifth year of service, Lecturer shall be reviewed and a recommendation made with respect to the promotion to the rank of Senior Lecturer.

We seek candidates who have a record of excellent teaching and who have the intellectual curiosity to pursue novel and innovative methods of thinking and teaching, and who are interested in establishing a long-term teaching career with the Department.

Candidates should have a PhD in mathematics. Evidence of excellence in teaching is necessary.

The Department wants to reinforce existing areas of teaching coverage in mathematics and expand into new areas. Responsibilities include undergraduate teaching, managing teaching assistants, developing course materials, and curriculum development. In addition, each faculty member has some responsibility for student recruitment and departmental administration.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Applications should include curriculum vitae, statement of career goals and teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching excellence and three to five letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted online at <https://www.mathjobs.org/jobs/jobs/4027>, by November 10, 2012.
